INAUGURATION OVER

Mr. Cleveland Once More President of the United States.

CEREMONIES OVER THE EVENT.

One of the Greatest Inaugural Parades Ever Witnessed in the National Capital. Washington Dressed in Bunting and Flowers—Scenes of Pomp and Pageantry Illustrated.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Another great event occurred in this city today in the inauguration of a president and vice president. Washington, in its appearance today, illustrates the fact that the inauguration of the president of the United States is becoming a more and more spectacular affair, and Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House was a veritable vanity fair. The fronts of the buildings were fully decorated and some almost hidden behind a wealth of flags, bunting, festoons, medallions, portraits and general designs in brilliant colors and more or less commendable taste. The tricolor encircles the white marble columns of every public building in Washington. Bunting and the star-spangled banner brighten the garishness of nearly every building from the Capitol to the White House.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Never has inaugural ceremonies been attended by as many visitors as are in the city today. For the past 48 hours train after train has been bringing in thousands and thousands of people, many being tastily uniformed clubs from all over the Union.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

Everybody was up bright and early this morning anxious to witness the stirring events. Many persons took positions on the steps of the house wing of the Capitol as early as 7 o'clock in order to have a good view of the proceedings. By 11 o'clock the space at the main entrance of the Capitol was literally packed with human beings.

Nearly as far as the eye could reach from the Capitol in all directions the streets and avenues were crowded with people. Both sides of Pennsylvania avenue from Eighteenth street to the Capitol were lined with a surging mass of humanity. The tide of people that flowed to the Capitol to hear the inaugural address was a perfect flood. Without and within that building all was animation and bustle. Crowds of people not fortunate enough to secure tickets of admission to the building lounged about as if they expected to be benefited by waiting. As soon as the doors were thrown open a mad rush was made for admission and soon every available space in the great structure was taken.

At 1 o'clock, on the conclusion of the ceremonies, the members of the senate, preceded by the sergeant-at-arms, vice president and the secretary, returned to the senate chamber, and the president, accompanied by the committee of arrangements, proceeded to the executive mansion.

The president and the president-elect entered the senate wing by the bronze doors, each accompanied by a member of the committee of arrangements. The president proceeded direct to the president's room and the president-elect to the vice president's room, where they remained until they entered the senate chamber. Having been introduced by the committee of arrangements, they occupied seats reserved for them in front of the presiding officer. The committee of arrangements took seats on their left.

After the organization of the senate was completed, those assembled in the senate chamber proceeded through the rotunda to the platform on the central portico of the Capitol.

At noon the oath of office was administered to the president-elect by the chief justice, and President Cleveland delivered his inaugural address.

The vice president-elect proceeded to the vice president's room, where he remained until he entered the senate chamber, where the oath of office was administered to him by the president of the senate pro tem.

He then delivered his address to the senate.

Exchange of Calls.

The great event of yesterday was the visit of the outgoing president to his successor and the return of the courtesy by Mr. Cleveland. The weather was rather muggy when President Harrison, in pursuance of the long established custom, went to the Arlington to greet Mr. Cleveland. The president drove up to the side entrance to the Arlington and was quickly ushered upstairs. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland received the president, who was greeted warmly. The president, with his unfailing courtesy, offered his warm congratulations to Mr. Cleveland.

It is said he was much struck with Baby Ruth and gave that precious child a warm kiss and a hug. Mr. Harrison remained only a short time and then returned to the White House.

After the visit of the president Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland entered a carriage and at 10:30 they passed into the White House, which they left four years ago. They were warmly received by the president and remained 15 minutes.

The president-elect spent the afternoon in his apartments where he and Mrs. Cleveland received a number of visitors, mostly personal friends. In the evening they dined with the president at the White House. The hour set for the dinner was half past seven o'clock, but Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were delayed in their departure and did not leave the Arlington until five minutes after the hour.

At 7:30 not more than 10 people were gathered about the carriage entrance to the Arlington. Drawn there by a suspicion that the president-elect and his wife would appear. A few minutes later the Kings county Democratic association with Congressman Clancy and ex-Congressman Archie Bliss conspicuous in Secretary of Treasury, the lead of the column, came along the broad plaza in front of the hotel, the band rendering "The Bowery" with vigor.

The purpose of the association was to serenade the wives of a number of its members, and incidentally, the president-elect. It so happened that just as the association and the band came to a halt, little Ruth Cleveland managed to pull up the curtain of one of the windows in the apartments of the Cleverlands looking out on the plaza and pressed her nose against the pane in an endeavor to see the band. The members of the Kings County association and the crowd of fully 1,000 persons who had gathered about them saw the child and set up a cheer.

The leader of the band, correctly surmising that Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland had left their rooms and were about to appear, influenced in this belief, perhaps, by the appearance of an elegant equipage at the entrance way, quickly changed the air to "Hail to the Chief," Secretary of the Navy, and to this familiar rendition the president-elect and Mrs. Cleveland came out of the doorway with Private Secretary Thurber close at hand. There was a shuffling of feet and a cry of "There he is," and then a mighty shout went up from the throng. Mrs. Cleveland entered the carriage first and the president-elect followed.

The carriage whisked away in an instant, the loud cheers following them as they passed through the crowd, and Mr. Cleveland doffed his hat in recognition of the demonstration. Owing to the great number of people that blocked the more direct route to the White House, the carriage was driven there by a round about way.

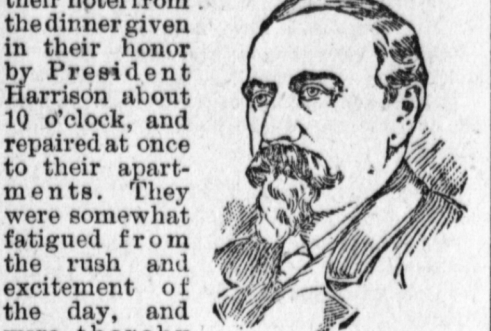

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were received by the president and Mrs. McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland returned to their hotel from the dinner given in their honor by President Harrison about 10 o'clock, and repaired at once to their apartments. They were somewhat fatigued from the rush and excitement of the day, and were thereby compelled to deny themselves Secretary of Agriculture, for the remainder of the evening to all callers, and retired soon after 11 o'clock. The other members of their party also retired early.

W. H. BISSELL.

Postmaster General.

It was the mecca of hoi polloi of the Democracy. Fully 3,000 people paid their respects during the day. General Stevenson and his family dined in the public diningroom at 6 o'clock. After dinner they repaired to the public parlor where they held a reception. General Stevenson was assisted by his wife and daughters. For an hour or more they were kept busy receiving the greetings of their friends and partisans.

PASSING THE REVIEWING STAND.

THE GREAT PARADE.

One of the Greatest Inaugural Events Ever Witnessed.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Of course the greatest event was the inaugural parade in which thousands of gaily and neatly dressed clubs took part. It was by far the largest inaugural parade ever witnessed in Washington. All day yesterday, notwithstanding the wet and rainy weather, the streets were lively and filled with marching bands of music and arriving clubs and soldiers.

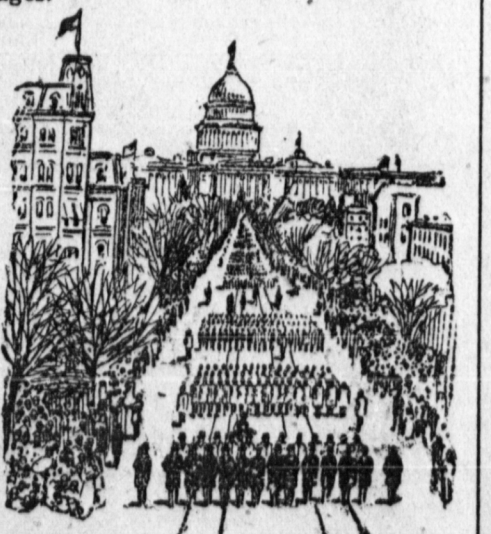

The column was composed of two grand divisions with Martin F. McMahon grand marshal.

The first brigade, first division consisting of United States troops, assembled on Pennsylvania avenue heading on Jackson place.

The president having been received with proper honors the first leading brigade swung into line and the great parade was begun. The brigade was in the following order:

The grand marshal and staff. The president, the president-elect, the vice president-elect and the senate committee of arrangements in carriages.

Members of the cabinet also in carriages.

MARCHING UP PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE.

Then followed a delegation of the New York businessmen's Cleveland and Stevenson clubs, representing the New York Stock Exchange, Produce and Maritime Exchange, Coffee Exchange, Consolidated and Petroleum Exchange, Wine and Spirits Exchange, Dry Goods Exchange, Merchants' Exchange, Hide and Leather Exchange, Iron and Metal Exchange, Hardware Exchange, West Side Exchange, Custom House Brokers' Exchange.

Then followed the senior admiral of the navy, followed by the second brigade.

In this formation the division escorted the president to the Capitol.

The second division consisted of the Pennsylvania national guard.

The third division consisted of the national guard organizations of other states preceded by their respective governors and staffs, the whole arranged from front to rear in the order of the states' adoption of the constitution and admission to the Union.

The fourth division consisted of organizations as follows: Grand Army of the Republic, Union Veteran Legion, Union Veterans' Union and Medal of Honor Legion.

They followed hundreds of Democratic clubs from all parts of the United States.

Cleveland's Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A roll call of the new cabinet next Monday will show all present. Seven of them are already here. The personage who has attracted the most attention at the Arlington for several days is Hon. J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska, who is to fill the place in the popular heart now filled by Uncle Jerry Rusk. Mr. Carlisle has been in the city through most of the session of congress. Colonel Dan Lamont was one of the party from Lakewood and is at the Arlington with his family. Judge Gresham did not see the parade. He will reach the city Monday. Hoke Smith, the coming secretary of the interior, arrived Saturday morning. Mr. Bissell, the postmaster general to be and Mr. Olney of Boston, who will be the attorney general are here. Mr. Bissell has quarters at the Arlington and Mr. Olney's apartments are at the Shoreham.

LAST CABINET MEETING.

Mr. Harrison Bids His Counselors Farewell.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The last meeting of President Harrison's cabinet took place at the usual hour yesterday. All of the members were present, and at the conclusion of a half hour's conference the president arose, and in a few words bade them goodbye.

He thanked them for the loyal support they had always given him and attributed much of the success of his administration to their wise counsels, faithful service and devotion to the country's highest good. He thanked them for the personal good will they bore him, and wished for each one happiness and success in all their undertakings. He then shook hands with each in turn and in a voice which betrayed emotion bade them goodbye.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES.

One Man Killed and Three Others Fatally Injured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 4.—Engine 44 of the Lehigh Valley road exploded her boiler near McCune's station, 15 miles north of Pittston, yesterday, killing William Brown, a pilot, who had been sent to assist the train over the Buffalo division, and fatally injuring Sinsbaugh, the engineer; Perry Rufenburg, the fireman, and John Schitt, a brakeman.

The force of the explosion carried the boiler off the frame and what remained of the engine held the track and ran as far as Falls station, where it came to a standstill on an up grade. The injured men are too badly hurt to give any particulars, and the explosion having taken place below McCune's station in an isolated locality no further details are obtainable.

CASE OF KIDNAPING.

Prominent Business Man Arrested for Stealing His Own Child.

WEST UNION, O., March 4.—Henry Stout, a prominent business man of Rome, this county, was arrested yesterday for the kidnaping of his little 5-year-old daughter. Stout was divorced from his wife some years ago. A little daughter was left with the mother.

The mother is the daughter of Jehu Dugan, a prominent tobacco dealer, well known in Cincinnati. Yesterday an unknown man was seen talking to the little girl. It proved to be her father in disguise. Jumping the fence, he seized the child and bore her away. Deputy Sheriff McMannis was given charge of the case, found the child and, after a desperate struggle with the father, rescued it and brought it to this place.

CATASTROPHE IN MEXICO.

Eight People Killed and About Thirty Others Wounded.

LINARES, Mex., March 4.—The annual festival in this city closed with a most unfortunate catastrophe. There was a bull fight in progress and the temporary tiers of seats were filled with spectators.

The back was made of loosely arranged "sillares," or adobes, and back of this a crowd of men, women and children were peeping through the holes of the wall to witness the fight, when the weight of the seats forced the wall back and it fell on the heads of the outside spectators, killing eight and wounding 30 of them.

Five Children Suffocated.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Five children were smothered in a fire that burned out the upper story of the tenement at 194 Henry street, at 8 o'clock Friday morning. They were locked in rooms on the top floor while their mothers were out attending to the household shopping.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Both the house and senate held all-night sessions, which continued until noon today. A vast amount of filibustering was resorted to, and hence many important measures were not acted on.

ACCOMPLISHED KAIULANI.

The Hawaiian Princess Is a Natural Musician and an Artist of Some Skill.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Princess Kaiulani of Hawaii received a thorough education in London and possesses many accomplishments. E. C. MacFarlane says she was a natural musician, and can play the piano and violin with more than ordinary skill. She is not a singer; her tastes are in the direction of instrumental music. Her hands are also skilled in the art of painting, and in this line she has done some very creditable work. Her accomplishments have made her a social favorite among the Americans and English residents of Honolulu.

No Aspirant for Her Hand Yet.

A report was published here, that handsome Prince David was to marry the princess. It was said the deposed queen had expressed a desire to see the prince and princess husband and wife. The prince told your correspondent there was nothing in such a story, and Mr. MacFarlane said it was ridiculous. "I am certain," he said, "the queen never expressed such wish, and I do not believe the rumor is true. The princess is not likely to enter the matrimonial state for several years. I do not know of anyone who is paying her attentions as a lover. She is an estimable young lady and there are probably many young men who would be pleased to marry her. But I am ignorant of who they are."

Mr. MacFarlane said he never told an interviewer that the visit of the princess was unfortunate. He said he regarded it as unnecessary.

"I suppose," he said, "she thought her interests needed protection, and that she ought to be here. I presume if she had known the question of annexation would be deferred until the next administration she would not have come at this time. She will probably not see President Cleveland unless he expresses a desire to talk with her. I see that one of the morning papers said that Dr. Mott Smith did not see the princess. That is not true. He went down and met her on the steamer at the dock. He did not call at her hotel. I do not think his visit to her had any significance, but that he called to pay his respects."

CANADA ANXIOUS

To Be Allowed to Appoint a Diplomatic Agent at Washington.

OTTAWA, March 4.—In the commons Thursday afternoon Mr. McCarthy asked the government what reply had been made by Great Britain to the resolution passed last session requesting that Canada be given power to appoint diplomatic representatives at Washington. Mr. Foster stated that when he and the late Premier Abbott were in England they discussed the matter with the colonial and foreign ministers, and were informed that serious difficulties lay in the way of allowing Canada to appoint representatives at foreign capitals with ambassadorial functions. They had also been given to understand that the British government would be pleased to facilitate the representation of Canadian interests through the ministers to foreign capitals, and might consider the appointment of a Canadian agent at Washington.

Mr. Laurier asked that the correspondence between the Canadian and British governments with reference to this matter be produced.

Mr. Foster replied that no written communication had taken place between the two governments in reference to the matter.

Mr. Laurier then said: "If so, the government was guilty of neglect in considering the dispute regarding the proceedings of the reciprocity conference at Washington, and it is important that all communications with the imperial or foreign government should be invariably reduced to writing."

Mr. Boulton's resolution, favoring free trade on the lines adopted in Great Britain, was defeated in the senate Thursday.

PROBABLE OCEAN DISASTER.

The Steamer Naronic Now Over Eleven Days Overdue.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The fate of the White Star freight steamship Naronic is still unknown. She is now 20 days out from Liverpool, bound for this port. She ought to have arrived here 11 days ago.

The impression among steamship men generally is that she has met with some disaster out of the ordinary, and they do not appear to feel very hopeful of her turning up safe. In answer to the theory that the Naronic had been sunk by ice, her agents say it would be impossible unless she ran into an iceberg bow on while going at full speed. She is the strongest ship afloat, they say, and built with airtight compartments from her deck to her keel, so arranged that she would float if her entire bow were knocked off by a collision.

When the Naronic left Liverpool she had a crew, all told of 55 men, and in addition had several men as passengers. It was said this morning that only the names of two of the seamen were known to the White Star people.

Society Lady's Sudden Death.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 4.—Mrs. George D. Wick, aged 32, sister of Miss Chamberlain, the famous American beauty in London, and a charming society lady, died suddenly yesterday morning at her residence on Wick avenue, of internal hemorrhage. Deceased was the wife of a well known iron manufacturer and leaves a daughter 10 years old.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A story is circulated in certain Catholic circles and credited to Archbishop Ryan to the effect that a coadjutor to Archbishop Kenrick has been decided on at Rome and that the man is the Right Rev. J. J. Kain of Wheeling.

For Kentucky, light snows, followed by clearing weather, north winds.

PRESIDENT HARRISON turned seventeen bank-wreckers out of the penitentiary during his term of office. The silk-gloved rascals fared well at his hands. He could not see them suffering. The suffering they caused was lost sight of by him.

THAT encampment of the State guard at Chicago during the World's Fair would give the boys opportunity for a nice "lark" but it looks like the State ought to settle with the Frankfort merchants first for the supplies furnished the guard at the last encampment.

A COMPANY has been organized and all arrangements made to start another shoe factory at Portsmouth that will employ nearly 100 hands at the beginning. This will make about the fifth shoe-factory at that place and they are all prospering. It was not many years ago when Portsmouth did not have any enterprises of this kind. Maysville may wake up after awhile.

THE Covington Post will not be hankering so much hereafter for libel suits. Hon. T. F. Hallam was awarded a judgment yesterday against the Post company for $2,500. The paper charged him with selling out to Hon. Al. Berry in the last Congressional contest, and he promptly sued for $10,000 damages. The BULLETIN published some of the testimony in the case a week or so ago, showing the dishonorable methods resorted to by the editor. Mr. Hallam is vindicated handsomely, but the jury ought to have given him judgment for the full amount.

CURRENT TOPICS IN SOCIETY.

We doubt if there is a city in the world the size of Maysville that has as many clubs exclusively devoted to the entertainment and edification of the fair sex. Prominent among these is the Pickwick Club. It is composed of ten or twelve of our prominent matrons, who manage to pass away in a very pleasant manner one afternoon in every week. The Matinee Club is an extremely popular organization, and the entertainments given by the members are peculiarly unique and charming. The Young Ladies' Afternoon Euchre Club is composed of about twenty of the young matrons and maidens in society; and it is said that for playing scientifically the members of this club have no superiors. Whether this is true or not remains to be proved. The question, however, will not remain long in doubt if rumor be true, for we have been confidentially assured that the maidens, not wishing to be too exclusive, will possibly entertain the young gentlemen at an early date.

The Matinee Club was handsomely entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Dr. Phillips.

The patrons and friends of the Visitation Academy enjoyed a very delightful musicale Tuesday afternoon. It was given by Miss Helena Hynes, assisted by Miss Agnes O'Donnell and the Visitation Mandolin Club. Four of the advanced music pupils of this academy are competing for a gold medal. The contest is to be decided by four musicales, this being the first of the series. Miss Hynes certainly acquitted herself well in this initial entertainment and demonstrated great musical talent and ability. If the other young ladies succeed in surpassing or even equaling this performance, our lovers of music have certainly three great treats in store. After the music Rt. Rev. Bishop Maes delivered a graceful and apt little discourse on his theory of music, which was listened to with great interest and appreciation by the audience, for whom it was all too short.

That interesting organization known as the Pickwick Club was delightfully entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. John A. Reed.

Now is the time to arrange for your spring "planting." The kitchen garden is well enough, but don't forget the roses, the shade trees and the ornamental "climbers" that beautify the humblest home. Why could not the city do a little planting? Trees and grass would add no little to the attractions of Esplanade avenue.

Thanks to the energy of our municipal administration, we are to have an early and thorough spring cleaning. This will be gratifying news to the spring "shoppers," and to all who buy and sell. For some time the street crossings have been almost impassable.

Mrs. G. S. Wall and daughter, Miss Ethelene, are reported to be fairly convalescent.

Maysville is a music-loving city. Judging from the number of youths and maidens who are taking lessons on guitar and mandolin, we may hope to have our summer evenings enlivened by the thrumming and tinkling of these sweet instruments.

"And nights shall be filled with music."

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of package.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Is Opposed to Repassing the Election Bill—Other Matters of Importance.

The House defeated the bill, yesterday, to authorize the employment of female physicians in asylums where females are confined.

The Senate notified the House it had indefinitely postponed the General Election bill upon the ground that to re-pass the bill would be to invalidate all the elections held during the summer and fall. They take the view of Judge Pryor, of the Appellate Court, who holds that when a bill has been properly certified and signed by the Governor the courts have no right to go behind the returns.

The bill relating to crimes and punishments was passed.

One of the amendments passed in the Corporation bill provides that no company reincorporating under this bill shall charge a greater rate for transportation of passengers or freight than was allowed by their original charter.

The McNerney bill, to prohibit barbering on Sunday, came up in the Senate, but a quorum failed to vote and it dropped into the orders of the day. Nineteen votes were recorded for the bill.

The House passed the Corporation bill by a vote of 64 to 4.

Peak, of Trimble, introduced a bill in the House imposing a tax upon inheritances, distributive shares and legacies.

Botts, of Shelby, introduced a bill to regulate the sale of leaf tobacco.

The Judiciary Committee reported adversely the resolution to make good the orders of the Menifee Circuit Court in the case of Alonzo Brookshire, the murderer sent up for life. Brookshire was sent to Richmond and afterward to the Lexington jail to avoid the mob, and was then transferred to the Menifee County jail. The resolution provided for the payment of $532 for expenses incurred by the Sheriff of Menifee. The resolution was refused its second reading.

MR. WILLIAM PEPPER, JR., who moved to Huntington some weeks ago, has engaged in the coal business there.

A BILL has been introduced in the West Virginia Legislature, fixing severer penalties for train robbery. It provides that if a murder is committed the juries shall have no discretion, but the penalty shall be death; and that the penalty for robbery by masked persons shall be imprisonment for life. This will come pretty nearly putting an end to train robbery in West Virginia.

THE largest azalia tree ever seen in this country is on exhibition at Louisville. The plant is over four feet in height, has over 1,000 blossoms and is thirty-five years old. It was sent from the Royal Gardens at Brussels. Four varieties of flowers are found on this tree—rose, pink, white and variegated, double, semi-double and single. The plant is not fully developed, and it is said, will bloom 5,000 to 6,000 flowers. The azalia is an eastern flower, and although a native of East India, is planted and propagated in Belgium on a large scale.

Telegraphers to Contest.

The New York telegraphers will have a contest on March 11, which is expected to prove the most satisfactory and decisive tournament of the kind which has ever taken place on this continent. The decisive test will probably develop the extreme capacity of an absolutely "clean" conductor on wire manipulated by the fastest senders and most expert receivers in the United States and Canada.

English Justice.

In an English police court the other day a poacher, suspected of coming from land in search of game, received the same punishment as a farmer who took a red-hot poker, and, after tearing the clothes off a poor, half witted laborer, burned him on the legs, breast, arms and hands with it.

A TRIBUTE

To the memory of little Jessie White, who died at the Academy of St. Francis de Sales, in this city, on the morning of February 24th.

'Twas night—without the convent walls
The wind in fitful whistlings groaned;
Within, beside her "baby's" couch,
An anguished mother wept and moaned.

And so thro' all the weary night
The wind its sighing vigil kept,
While o'er the idol of her heart
The mourning mother watched and wept.

A last adieu to each dear friend
Our darling spoke with loving grace,
And when we whispered her of Heaven,
A smile celestial lit her face.

She thanked the doctor for his care,
Begged lonely "mamma" not to weep,
Then asked, "When shall I go to God?"
The doctor answered, "When you sleep."

And patient Jessie closed her eyes—
The mother watched with bated breath;
She trusted not this seeming rest,
But knew 'twas harbingers of death.

The night wore on—the wild winds ceased—
The mother hushed her sobbing breath,
That Jessie, resting on her heart,
Might have no sorrow in her death.

At dawn, when waking nature smiled,
Her spirit gently passed away—
To us may come full many nights—
With her 'tis blissful, endless day.

We'll miss her smile, her gentle voice,
Her dove-like, laughing violet eyes—
The angel culled our fairest flower
To bloom immortal in the skies.

Our Lord hath need in gardens bright
Of this dear blossom, pure and sweet—
We bow submissive to his will,
And lay it, trusting, at his feet.

WANTED.

A Stylish Shoe

Adds grace and elegance to the appearance. Shabby Shoes detract from the most stylish costume. Even an unpolished Shoe is an unsightly appendage, but a wrecked or ill-fitting one is an abomination.

TO BUILD A HOUSE you would start at the foundation. Act on the same principle with your outfit. Put the right foot foremost—but let it be well shod—then go ahead.

YOU PAY DEARER FOR SHOES that do not fit than you do for those that fit well. The one produces corns and the other comfort. Which do you prefer? The latter of course. Then come to

THE Y. M. C. A.

The State Secretary and Assistants will Visit Maysville and Hold a Series of Meetings.

Mr. Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary, and two of his assistants in Y. M. C. A. work, Mr. Hutchins and Mr. Boucher, of Covington, will be in Maysville, Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12, to hold a series of three meetings for the future advancement of the local organization. On Saturday the 11th at 8 p. m., will be held a business conference in the room of the Y. M. C. A. at the Cox Building. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock will be held a mass meeting for men only in one of the churches; Sunday night at 7:30 it is the intention to hold a union service of all denominations and ministers, yet to be selected.

The singing at these meetings will be a great feature; many string instruments will assist the organ to accompany a large choir. Gospel Hymns No. 5 will be used. Mr. Rosevear and assistants are prominent in their work, excellent and forcible talkers, earnest and fervent in every way. All citizens who have the welfare of our city at heart should not only respond in person but should bring their friends with them. Assist the members of the Y. M. C. A. Act your part so they may know just where you stand. These young men deserve your support, not that they are perfect or are any better than you, but the earnest way in which they are striving to lead more correct lives and to get nearer to Jesus should inspire all to less unfavorable criticism and more aggressive steps, aid them and thereby partake of the privileges, which sooner or later all will wish to enjoy.

The local branch of the Y. M. C. A. has secured the furniture and handsome carpet of the Commercial Club room, and fitted up the new quarters in the "Cox Building," which gives the organization an excellent room for its meetings hereafter. The carpet and furniture was valued at $200, and most of the members of the club have donated their interest in the outfit to the Y. M. C. A.

The meeting at 3:30 to-morrow afternoon will be led by Professor J. H. Rowland. All young men are cordially invited.

TAX-PAYERS, TAKE NOTICE.

Board of Equalization Passes Finally Upon Your Assessment—It Meets Monday.

The County Board of Equalization will meet next Monday in the County Clerk's office to pass upon the assessment for this year. It is composed of Messrs. W. S. Frank, W. B. Mathews, J. J. Perrine, S. M. Worthington, Jas. N. Kirk, Walter Mathews and James E. Cahill. It generally requires several days for the Board to go through the Assessor's books, and then there is an adjournment to some future day, when another meeting is held for the purpose of hearing complaints, if any, from parties whose assessment has been increased.

Section 9 of Article 6 of the Revenue and Taxation law says: "The Board, on reassembling, shall hear all complaints and pass finally upon the assessment of all tax-payers, and from such action there shall be no appeal." It is thus seen that there is no appeal to the County Court, as was the rule under the old taxation law.

The Sheriff is required to notify all parties whose assessment has been increased, and also give them notice of the date of the adjourned meeting of the Board.

If you should be notified of an increase in your assessment, and have any complaints to make, make them to the Board.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.

Another Fistio Event Comes Off In New Orleans.

SMITH KNOCKS OUT GODDARD.

Eighteen Rounds Fought Before the Contest is Decided—The Fight Lasted One Hour and Ten Minutes—Details by Rounds.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—Joe Goddard, the "Barrier Giant," and Ed Smith, the Denver pugilist, met last night in the arena of the Olympic club for a purse of $10,000, the loser to take barely enough from his purse to pay his training expenses.

Goddard looked big and strong, with not an ounce of superfluous flesh on his bones, showing that he had trained faithfully and well. His muscles were like bars of iron, on which the veins stood out like whipcords. His legs were strong and sturdy, and he carried himself with a confident determination.

As the hour approached when the bell would sound its sonorous clang summoning the gladiators into the ring, Smith showed signs of nervousness, but his backers and handlers tried their best to jolly him along and to prevent the possibility of his becoming stage frightened. Smith had trained faithfully and looked fine enough to put up a great battle.

At 8 o'clock the vast arena was comfortably filled. It is estimated that at least 5,500 spectators occupied the seats and private boxes. Time was called at 9:38.

The first three rounds were devoid of special incidents.

Fourth round—Goddard got in with the left, landing heavily on Smith's jaw. Smith jabbed Goddard twice.

Goddard tried to crowd Smith and a furious scrimmage at short range followed. Smith began to show signs of tiring. Goddard landed two hard ones on the Denver man's head. There was more furious infighting, and both men somewhat weak. Smith landed heavily on Goddard's jaw and staggered him. Both were blowing at the close of the round.

Sixth round—Goddard landed a straight left on Smith's neck. They clinched, Goddard on the aggressive. Again he hit Smith, staggering him against the ropes. He had Smith groggy. He then recovered and jabbed Joe wickedly. Another terrific short range battle and Smith hammered Goddard to the ropes where both fell after terrible fighting after which both men were unable to rise and only struggled to their feet, as the round ended. Smith had the best of it.

Seventh round—Goddard came up weak. They punched each other at short range to save themselves. Smith hit Joe three times with his left. Smith then knocked Goddard to his knees. He rose in time to save himself but it was a close call. Goddard landed a hard left-hander on Smith's stomach, then Smith clinched to avoid punishment. The men sparred for breath. Smith swung his left landing with great force on Goddard's neck just as the bell rang.

Eighth round—Neither hurried to the scratch. Goddard started in with a rush and landed with his left on Smith's jaw. After repeated clinches Smith jabbed Joe on the neck. Goddard came back with his right and they scrapped furiously. Goddard floored Smith cleanly. After he rose they came together and punished each other severely. Goddard had the best of the round.

Ninth round—Goddard upper cut Smith lightly, and the later closed in on him. In the break Smith hit Goddard a good one on the head. Goddard punched Smith around. Smith weakened. Goddard landed hard on Smith's neck, punching him vigorously, and they clinched. Smith knocked Goddard bobbing. Goddard returned with a bad one on the chin and Smith came again with a stiff one on the ear.

Eleventh round—The moment the gong sounded the men clinched to save themselves and Goddard jabbed Smith. On the break-away they exchanged hard left-handers. Goddard landed again with his left and the latter staggered. Now it was Smith's turn to force matters and he went for Goddard gamely, but they were both weak. The round closed with the men fiddling.

Twelfth round—There was considerable caution displayed on both sides. Smith got in a good one on Joe's heart, and Goddard replied with an equally good left on the chest. Smith puffed and Goddard rushed him. Smith stopped him with a jab in the neck, and then followed it with two others. Goddard got an uppercut in on Smith, and the latter landed twice with swinging lefts on Goddard's eye, starting the blood. The round favored Smith.

Thirteenth round—Smith opened with a rush and caught Goddard on the jaw. Eight jabs were exchanged after sparring for wind, without damage. Goddard then knocked Smith down. He rose weakly and Goddard attempted to force him, but was stopped by Smith's right and left on Joe's stomach. After a lively short-range fight, Goddard reached Smith's neck with his left, and the bell saved Smith.

Fourteenth round—Goddard swung his right and Smith cross-counterped on the neck. More furious infighting and Goddard forced Smith around the ring. Goddard landed a good one on Smith's jaw knocking him to his knees. The gong again saved Smith.

Fifteenth round—Smith opened with his right, reaching Joe on the neck. They clinched. The men were too weak to do much damage. Smith jabbed Goddard wicked with his left. Goddard staggered and fell from the force of his own blows. He arose again and the round ended with the men sparring.

Sixteenth round—Goddard came up quickly and forced Smith to the ropes, jabbing him twice. The crowd shouted its displeasure.

Seventeenth round—A lively exchange opened the proceedings, with Smith having the advantage. He went for Joe wickedly and landed his right on Goddard's neck with great force. Smith swung his left on Goddard's neck and Goddard came back with his right and forced the fighting. The crowd cheered wildly for Smith, who showed wonderful gameness and ability.

Eighteenth round—Smith was the aggressor. He caught Goddard on the jaw and then followed a rattling exchange of blows and Goddard pushed Smith to the ropes landing two uppercuts. They mixed matters and Smith knocked Goddard down. Smith then rushed him. When he arose he landed a terrible swing on Goddard's jaw, knocking him down. Goddard was unable to rise and was counted out.

Professor Duffy declared Smith the victor amid terrific cheers.

Time of fight 1 hour and 10 minutes.

DAILY BULLETIN:

You know how it is yourself. Doesn't this picture bring up the good days of your youth? How we did enjoy the turkey mother roasted! Well, let us be thankful for the rare blessings vouchsafed us to-day, and with more mature judgment HENRY ORT proposes your good health and invites your attention to the proverb,

"Enough

Is as Good as a Feast."

But at the same time he invites your attention to his stock of goods, such as

EXTENSION TABLES,
DINING CHAIRS,
SIDEBOARDS, ETC.

WORK FOR US

a few days, and you will be startled at the unexpected success that will reward your efforts. We positively have the best business to offer an agent that can be found on the face of this earth. $45.00 profit on $75.00 worth of business is being easily and honorably made by and paid to hundreds of men, women, boys, and girls in our employ. You can make money faster at work for us than you have any idea of. The business is so easy to learn, and instructions so simple and plain, that all succeed from the start. Those who take hold of the business reap the advantage that arises from the sound reputation of one of the oldest, most successful, and largest publishing houses in America. Secure for yourself the profits that the business so readily and handsomely yields. All beginners succeed grandly, and more than realize their greatest expectations. Those who try it find exactly as we tell them. There is plenty of room for a few more workers, and we urge them to begin at once. If you are already employed, but have a few spare moments, and wish to use them to advantage, then write us at once (for this is your grand opportunity), and receive full particulars by return mail. Address, TRUE & CO., Box No. 400, Augusta, Me.
